

INTERNSHIP ROLE PROFILE

GENERAL DETAILS
Role Title	Product R&D Intern
Department	Product
Reports to (manager)	Product Manager
Location	London – Hammersmith (Hybrid working available)
Date	Flexible but will be for 8 weeks.
PURPOSE
Circular are offering an intern to join Circular’s Product team to support in the research and analysis of current upstream and midstream traceability solutions available on the market for critical mineral suppliers. This work will help to identify potential opportunities to inform Circular’s product suite offering.
TYPICAL TASKS
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Research and development of current market traceability offerings for upstream and midstream suppliers of critical minerals. • Research of current and emerging regulations that may impact upstream and midstream critical mineral suppliers. • Scoping of product enhancements with the Product team based on your research and analysis. • Prioritisation of the enhancements.
ESSENTIAL REQUIREMENTS
Application/ Energy	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • An interest in the responsible sourcing sector • Communicate efficiently within the Product team. • Be a team player who is self-motivated but happy to ask for when help when needed. • Can handle multiple tasks at any one time. • Have an analytical mindset.
Knowledge	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • High-level understanding of critical mineral mining processes, circular economy and/or critical mineral recycling is useful, but not essential. • Relevant degree or work experience in environmental engineering, environmental geography, energy or sustainability is useful.

Technical Skills	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Excellent research, writing and analytical skills. • Ability to deliver high quality written deliverables in English, with keen attention to detail.
ABOUT CIRCULATOR
Circular’s technology platform enables the monitoring and measurement of the provenance of materials in manufacturing and recycling supply chains – and with this flow of materials, dynamic tracking and attribution of the associated CO2 emissions. Circular enables transparency, which is the first step towards reducing emissions and driving more sustainable and ethical supply chains. Circular’s market-leading solution provides proof to our customers by collecting data and insights across a huge and growing network of extractors, refiners and manufacturers providing customers with the next-level in evidence and decision-making capability.	